Last updated: 14/11/2017

This Privacy Policy explains how CyberTrust Foundation (CyberTrust Stiftung, firm number CHE-338.440.449, Zug, Switzerland) ("Entity") collects, stores, uses and protects personal information. You accept this Privacy Policy when you use Entity's services or any other features, technologies or functionalities offered by Entity on Entity's web-site or through any other means.

1. Collection of Information.

When you use Entity's web-site www.cybertrust.io ("Site") or Entity's services, you may provide your personal information voluntarily, including but not limited to:

Your name

Residential address

Email address

Mailing address

Username and password

Digital wallet address or bank account information (depending on your method of payment)

In addition, you may provide some information involuntarily such as any information sent to Entity by your computer, mobile phone or other access device, or any other personal information you may choose to provide. This information may include your IP address, device information, including but not limited to identifier, name and type, operating system, location, mobile network information and standard web log information, such as your browser type, traffic to and from Entity's Site and the pages you accessed on Entity's Site.

In addition, Entity may collect personal information from or about you in other ways such as your interaction with customer support or contractual relationships with Entity.

Entity is not obligated to collect any of your information and may do it at its own discretion.

By providing Entity with your personal information, you also consent for Entity to collect, hold, use and disclose your personal information in accordance with this Privacy Policy. In addition to providing the foregoing information, if you choose to correspond further with Entity through e-mail or through the "contact" section of our Site, Entity may retain, use and disclose the content of your messages together with your e-mail address and responses.

2. Setting up and Using an Account.

In order to purchase tokens thorough Entity Site, you are required to set up a personal account and provide your personal information such as name and email address to secure your access to your account. Entity may require you to provide additional information to verify your identity, address or any other information in your account, such as your date of birth, copy of ID, citizenship, country of residence, and other information directly or through a third party. Entity is not obligated to verify your identity or any other personal information and may do it at its own discretion. You can review your personal information inside of your account. You can edit your personal information or delete your account by contacting Entity customer service. If you cancel or delete your account, Entity may keep your information in its database. This may be necessary to deter fraud by ensuring that a person who tries to commit fraud will not be able to avoid detection simply by closing his/her account and opening a new account. However, if you close your account, your personally identifiable information will not be used by Entity for any further purposes, nor sold or shared with the third parties, except as necessary to prevent fraud or money laundering and assist law enforcement in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

3. Use of Cookies.

Entity or its partners may place small data files (cookies) or pixel tags on your computer or other device when you access Entity Site. Entity may use these technologies to recognize you as a returning user, customize its services, content and advertising, evaluate marketing activities, and collect information about your computer or other access device. Entity may use various cookies, including but not limited to session cookies, persistent cookies, and "flash cookies." Entity may codify its cookies to limit access of third parties to the received information. You can independently control the use of cookies from your browser or browser add-ons; however, blocking or disabling Entity's cookies may interfere with your use of Entity's Site. Entity is not obligated to place cookies on your computer and may do it at its own discretion.

4. Use of Log Files.

Entity may use the log files to collect your Internet protocol (IP) addresses, type of browser, Internet Service Provider (ISP), date/time stamp, referring/exit pages, and number of clicks to analyze your activity on the Site, collect geographic and demographic information, and evaluate content of the Entity's Site. Information collected from log files is not personally identifiable. Entity is not obligated to use log files and may do it at its own discretion.

5. Storing, Using, and Sharing Your Personal Information.

Entity will store your personal information in its database. Entity may contract third parties to store your personal information.
